

Ethics or Personal Boundaries?

Behavior	OK	Not OK	Sometimes	When is it ok?
Keep your attraction to a client secret from support team.
Share your religious/spiritual beliefs with a client.
Share after-hours social time with a client.
Bend the rules for an individual client.
Bring a client home for any reason.
Advocate for a client against your team/agency.
Keep client's attraction to you secret from your team.
Loan money to a client. If yes, how much?
Share a meal with a client.
Engage in a common interest with a client.
Spend time alone with a client in his/her apartment.
Keep boundary concerns secret from your supervisor.
Loan personal items to a client.
Accept a loan of money from a client.

Behavior	OK	Not OK	Sometimes	When is it ok?
Accept a loan of personal items from a client.
Give a gift to a client to celebrate her success.
Accept a gift from a client.
Call a client after work hours.
Accept a call from a client after work hours.
Accept a call from a client at your home.
Invite clients to a party at your home.
See a former client as a friend.
Date a former client.
Accept a hug from a client.
Initiate a hug with a client.
Accept a shoulder massage from a client.
Initiate a shoulder massage with a client.
Take a client to your church.
Take a client to your self-help meeting.
Go for a beer after work with a consumer who is also a colleague at your agency.
Ride in a client's vehicle.				